

Benefits Of Hybrid Working For Businesses

What is Hybrid Working?

Hybrid Working combines the option of working in the office, with working from home. It provides a flexible working schedule for employees to enjoy the benefits of both working in the office, and remotely.

83% of employees surveyed said they prefer a hybrid working model, where they can work remotely at least 25% of the time.

Benefits of Hybrid Working

Splitting time between working in the office and remotely provides benefits that both employees and employers can enjoy. Here are the key advantages of a hybrid working model.

Improve efficiency

Increase your productivity by 57%, as the majority of surveyed employees see an improvement in their productivity when hybrid working.

Save on expenses

Cut down on your business costs due to needing less office space, and using fewer utilities (i.e. electricity).

Reduce time

Decrease the time spent on your daily operations by 25%. With a VoIP Phone System, your team can work efficiently from any location with a hybrid working model.

No restrictions

With hybrid working, you won't be limited to your area when searching for new talent. Meaning you can choose the best candidate, without the worry of location.

A better balance

Both employers and employees can enjoy the benefits of both office life and working remotely. You get the positives of both working styles.
